We will work on creating your "brand" on your home page and look at how to use lists - to cut through the "noise" of everyone you follow, creating a virtual PLN and also find great lists others have created to follow. One other frustration with Twitter is how it lives in the "moment" so we will learn how to use Flipboard as a way to create a digital magazine of saved tweets. You will learn how to increase your reach by blending with Instagram and Facebook. Please note that you should come at least with a working twitter account to this session.
